Why a compliance calendar matters

Missed statutory deadlines lead to late fees, penalties and, in some cases, disqualification of directors. A simple calendar owned by one person in your finance team removes most of that risk.

Board & secretarial

- Hold the first board meeting within 30 days of incorporation, and at least four board meetings a year after that, with no more than 120 days between two meetings.
- Hold the Annual General Meeting (AGM) within six months of the end of the financial year.
- Keep statutory registers and minutes books up to date.

Annual ROC filings

- AOC-4: financial statements, within 30 days of the AGM.
- MGT-7 / MGT-7A: annual return, within 60 days of the AGM.
- DIR-3 KYC: director KYC, every year.
- ADT-1: auditor appointment, within 15 days of the AGM where applicable.

Direct tax

- Advance tax instalments in June, September, December and March.
- Quarterly TDS/TCS returns and timely deposit of tax deducted.
- Tax audit report and corporate income tax return within the prescribed due dates.

GST

- Monthly or quarterly GSTR-1 and GSTR-3B, depending on your filing scheme.
- Annual return (GSTR-9) and reconciliation statement (GSTR-9C) where applicable.
- Monthly reconciliation of purchase registers with GSTR-2B before claiming input tax credit.

How All Nine helps

We set up a compliance calendar for your entity, take ownership of the filings and send you a monthly status report, so nothing slips through.

This guide is general information, not legal or tax advice. Due dates are revised by the authorities from time to time, so please confirm current timelines with us before acting.
